Description: I am scheduled for a month-long visit to India starting February 11, 2026. I will be exploring the serene Buddhist monasteries of the Spiti Valley to the bustling streets of Delhi. This will lead me from the mountains of the Himalayas to the jungles of Bandhavgarh. This adventure will be the most challenging itinerary I have put together with organizations from India and Italy. I will be staying at homestays without running water one week and moving onto four and five star hotels and everywhere in between. I will be experiencing temperatures below -30°F at over 14,000 ft elevation in one location and the jungles at over 100°F at another. If all goes well I will have photos to illustrate my experience in India. I will present my lessons learned during the planning and execution on the trip. I hope to show examples of wildlife, landscape and street photography techniques. But there are many things that are out of my control. I will substitute a talk on the Pantanal wildlife in the event the India presentation is not ready.
